

March 2014 Daily Reflection with Merlin!

How to Have More Money - Now!

Well now here we are once again to have a little chat together! Isn't that just splendid! This is your friend Merlin and I am pleased to be speaking with you, my dears. Our topic for this little chat is What the mystery of abundance? Or... let's get right to it, shall we? Here's the topic you want to hear about: What's going on with my lack of money? I always have just enough... but not more." How about that, my dears? Then let's get right to it, shall we? After all, there's no hocus-pocus about this. Just Truth. Here we go!

I'd like to start at the beginning a bit, so that we can all have a framework in order to proceed... because, my dears, this isn't just talking about how to have more money. It's really a how-to for you. How to have more money... now. Ah! I like that title, don't you?

Here's the beginning. Now don't get discouraged by the history of all of this. I'll get to the how-to pretty quickly. But! When you all traveled forth from my realm -- and let's face the facts. If you are reading these words, then you have been in my realm and studied with Merlin. This is too advanced a chat if you hadn't. But you have... and you did journey forth from my realm -- and enter into physicality.

And what did you do here? You discovered. You played. You developed purposes. You resided within those purposes. And there, my dears - through no fault of your own - did you begin to close the doors to your flowing abundance in all forms... until now, when you are wanting more money, more abundance... and can't seem to make it happen. So let's talk a little about that decision to create a purpose and then to reside within it, shall we? Since that's the culprit, you might say.

Now as I said, you weren't in the wrong; more so, your desires were filled with honor and service to the whole of humanity. Yes, that's what you did, my dears. You went forth to assist humanity, to assist them all to be relieved of suffering. Some of you became healers, some spiritual teachers, some inventors, some scientists... you filled the bill, so to speak, for all of the areas wherein humanity presented a less-than-whole vibrational frequency. All quite honorable and well-intended.

Then you might be wondering what went wrong? Here is the slight little fact that wasn't so very present during those times. When you went forth to assist humanity from its multi-layered suffering, you... did what? You began to move around physicality. You were most adept at it! Yet here is where the illusion began. You see, in order to fix the external world and all that resided within it, you went forth and moved around physicality. Not a crime. Of course. Yet, what was occurring then?

You were falling asleep to the basic truth that says that all that resides within physicality begins within the core of your creation. And you might be wondering how you could have gone forth in that manner. And I am here to tell you, my dears, that you did right -- so to speak in your slang vocabulary -- by humanity. The consciousness would not hold this truth during those times. You might say that you did the best that you could with what was at hand. Yet I am telling you all of this so that you can have an understanding of how this apparent lack began.

Your apparent lack began to be made manifest as you continued to focus on your external world and tried many different methods and means to manifest money, to manifest relief for you own selves. And much to your disappointment, you were only able to go so far with all of the methods. You couldn't manifest more. And then, the methods stopped working altogether. Everything stopped flowing in the usual manner. What happened.

When you began to manifest by manipulating the physical world, the external world, you began to reside in the illusion of separation from the whole. It was a subtle falling asleep, my dears, until one day you had forgotten... everything. And you might be thinking that you didn't forget everything; but the truth is that if you forgot that from the core of your being, the Core of Creation, does flow forth all fulfillment... then you forgot everything. Do you see?

Now let's fast forward -- another one of your delightful phrases -- to this present moment, to this present time upon earth within physicality. The consciousness has shifted. The frequencies that support this physicality and all of its inhabitants are vibrating at an accelerated rate and are able to support the incarnating of that which you forgot; the frequencies upon earth are now able to support the truth, the Real Truth.

And you might be thinking, "Well this is all well and good, but how do I participate with this Truth and have more money?" Yes, that's the real question, my dears. And in order to be ready for the answer, I'd like to take you through just a bit more within this chat, so that you can be open to receive that for which you have been asking... and more so, so that the Truth and the answer to your wanting can be presented to you in clear and definite ways. Doesn't that sound marvelous? Yes, I thought you would like that. Then let's continue.

What has been occurring in all of your lives is a most amazing occurrence. You have been discovering more of who you are. Now that might sound simple and a bit light, so to speak. But hear my words. In the discovering of who you really are, you have been letting go of who you are not, you have been letting go of olde inhibiting beliefs and ideas, and you have been letting go of methods that no longer work. What then has occurred? You have found yourself in the midst of what you call "being on-hold" and not knowing which direction to journey toward or within. What was occurring?

Your entire being was processing, my dears. The portal to your own creation -- that is, your taking form and releasing form in the moment, every moment -- was adjusting itself to accommodate the more of who you are, now ready to incarnate. Perhaps you'd like to re-read that statement?

And, with the more-of-who-you-are able to fully incarnate, the Truth of which I have been speaking is...what? It is activated within the encodings of your being. What does that mean?

When you are more fully incarnate, you are able to reside within an expanded consciousness, you are able to withstand the increased vibrational frequencies that will naturally flow forth within your incarnating, and you will be as close to your original being as you ever have been while incarnate. Maybe you'd like to re-read that statement as well?

Within your original incarnating into physicality, you were what could be called Divine Consciousness Incarnate. That is, you were totality of being taking form, continually, in physicality. What does that mean? It means that there was no separation, no slight moment, between what might become a desire and its being made manifest before you.

Now that's the history of all of this. You can go back and re-read if you'd like a deeper understanding. But I am here to tell you that simply by receiving this little chat right now, you have integrated into your entire system all that I have been saying. Why? Because what I have been saying is the truth and is the most natural way... your most natural way of residing within physicality. Your most natural way... being fulfilled before there is a subtle need, a subtle wish. Before.

The next question -- and answer -- is, how can you restore your participation within physicality to a manner of being that will bring forth your original manner of residing? Oh you are going to love this! Here's the answer.

It's easy. I could go on and on about ideas and truths, but let's get to the nitty-gritty, shall we? Here is a method that works. Yes, it's a method, but it's different, my dears, than what you have experienced before. Now pay close attention, because your mind will think that it already knows this. But if it did, you'd wouldn't be asking about how to have more money, would you. So don't let your mind's pre-conclusions cause you to roll your eyes -- you do that, you know -- and think this is just the same-old-same-old. It's older than that. It's ancient. It's before time. Here we go.

Now this is going to be about having more money, but you can use this method for just about anything, my dears, because the essence that flows forth is the All and can take form as everything and anything... according to your ability to participate in a most expanded manner. And don't worry now, you can do that, you can participate in this way, this most expanded way. Let's begin.

Firstly, you are going to require three friends who have plenty of money, who are not suffering from lack, and who believe that their abundance flows forth wither by some magic or by divine grace. Now you might think this would be difficult, that is, difficult to find three friends in this manner. But it isn't. You all have many friends who are living in the abundance of the universe... they have just been a little silent about it all. Not a crime, of course. They are not involved in bragging because there is nothing to brag about... after all, their abundant money comes from magic or divine grace and they know how to continue to participate within physicality to allow that flowing to continue.

So then you are asking three friends to gather together with you. What will they and you be doing... and why do you need those particular friends? Here's why.

Each of these friends do not hold limiting beliefs about how to participate with the abundance that naturally flows forth. They are of expanded consciousness and, though at times they might have the slight experience of a seeming lack, the lack disappears of its own accord rather quickly.

And the reason that you want these particular three friends to participate with you is that it is their job to sit quietly and bring their consciousness within that flowing of abundance, holding that consciousness and celebrating that truth... in your presence. Now you can't "get by" with less than three friends. I'll tell you what will occur.

As you gather together with your three living-in-financial-abundance friends, bringing yourselves to a meditative state; and as they then bring their consciousness on the glory of their own financial abundance and the Truth of the All or God or Universe - whatever vocabulary they choose to use - and reside within that glory... what occurs? Ah! Here it is at last! Your vibrational frequencies begin to change.

You, while residing with them, are not thinking about anything. You are not wishing for abundance. You are not trying to manifest abundance. You are not trying to change your vibrational frequencies. You are simply residing within your own meditative state... as close to the experience of the All or God or Universe that you can reside within.

Now don't be concerned if your meditative state is imperfect. It can't be perfect, so to speak, while you are experiencing lack in any form. Yet you can reside in that detached manner, where you have set aside all concerns for your external world, and are allowing your expanded consciousness to fill you.

Now I ask you, do you see? Because there are three beings residing within the consciousness of their financial abundance, they prove to be the majority, my dears. And what occurs? Their consciousness, their vibrational frequencies begin to transform you... until you are healed. That is, until your vibrational frequencies are re-established in their most perfect manner... in order to support the flowing forth of your entire fulfillment.

Now you might think this to be foolish. It is not. You might think it to be inconsequential. It is far from that. Hear these words.

You can also use this method, this technique, for healing... just about anything. The ingredients are three whole beings. That is, three beings who are able to reside within the consciousness of their own perfect health and the celebration of that health... and one being who is in need of healing.

Another example for effect use of this method might be when there is a being who is emotional distorted. The three then would be able to reside in that meditative state while holding the celebration of Divine Love within their being. Totality of being causes that which is in its presence to change, to transform. Why?

Here is the answer to the question, "How does all of this work?" It's this. Truth transforms illusion and distortion. When Truth is present in the majority -- of three and one -- then the illusion and distortion must... yes, must... dissolve. That is, the vibrational frequency of Truth causes the distortion or illusion to be no more. And the being who is requiring healing -- in any form -- is then transformed; the vibrational frequencies within their being cannot continue to maintain the distortion. It must, then, present wholeness of being, or what is called fulfillment in all manners.

Now your job, so to speak, is to call to yourself those three beings... expanded consciousness beings who are residing in financial abundance and able to celebrate its natural flowing from the All and into physicality. Once you are in contact with the three most willing and perhaps excited-to-participate beings, then go forth as I have described. Perhaps you will meet together a few times.

That what? Will a huge bag of money appear before you? Not likely, my dears. The next part is your own action. What is the action?

Firstly, each and every day, return to your meditative state and cause yourself to reside within gratitude for your abundance. Remember, you are not doing this in order to make money manifest. You are doing this to be grateful and to celebrate the truth of what is.

Secondly, practice doing what you love to do. Oh yes, you have heard that one before; but you have not taken the action. Your mind can't quite figure out how doing what you love to do -- large and small activities and pleasures -- can bring you money; and so, your mind also then convinces you to give up on that and... what? Work harder at what you do not love. Ah. That's called the mind's olde ways being a successful saboteur.

This is an important step, my dears. You are actually creating a new pathway upon which you can journey, upon which your abundance will be made manifest, and upon which you can be healed... in physicality. That is, your seeming lack, your illusionary lack, the distortion of lack will be dissolved... the more that you participate in this manner. If you do not, my dears, the olde frequencies will begin to be called forth. Why?

The old patterns of living, of struggling, of surviving within the illusion of lack, will take over... because of the majority. The majority of what? The majority of your conscious choosing... to let go, to refuse to change, and to sigh deeply and conclude that this just doesn't work for you. And if you reach this point -- and recognize it... -- yes, that's the trick, isn't it, to recognize when you have given up and surrendered to the illusion -- if or when you reach this point, request your three friends to meet with you again, so that your frequencies can be re-established.

Your three adept-at-expanded-consciousness friends will become -- if they choose -- abundance practitioners, wholeness of being practitioners.

Now you might think there is more, but the truth is, my dears, you have it all now. You have all that I intended to chat with you about.

Remember! Don't allow your mind to convince you that this won't work. Don't let your mind tell you that you'll never be able to find those three friends. Remember! Your mind is making conclusions based upon its current vibrational frequency and experience. And you are asking of yourself to make a change, a big change, a huge change. You are asking of yourself to return to your most pristine nature... and to reside therein.

Incidentally, you might also call this your entry into the next dimension, where all is exactly as we have been chatting about. Huh. Isn't that... well, you'll find out, won't you.

Just go ahead now and begin reflecting upon those possible three friends. and when your mind won't give them to you, then you know that it's time to meditate, to bring your consciousness to an expanded manner... and lo and behold, the identity of those three appears! Yes.

I will reside with you, my dears, to assist you when you ask.

Until we speak again, I am your friend, Merlin!

Next, practice doing what you love to do. You are actually creating a new pathway upon which you can journey, upon which your abundance will be made manifest, and upon which you can be healed... in physicality. That is, your seeming lack, your illusionary lack, the distortion of lack will be dissolved...
