

March 1, 2013 Channeling
The Beings of Inner Earth!

We are the Beings of Inner Earth and we flow forth to speak with you. Some of you are aware of our existence, while others do not know that there is a land within the earth, a land that is most beautiful, a land that is inhabited by beings who used to live upon the surface of this earth and who did, long ago, long long ago, venture into the earth in order to reside during times of great earthly changes and turmoil. We are those beings.

It might interest you to know that the land within the earth is filled with beauty, with nature, with waterfalls, seas and every form of nature that has resided upon the surface, or skin of the earth.

The colors and life force of all of this beauty are much more than what continues to reside upon the surface of the earth. Our air, water and vibrations are more pure than what has been occurring on the surface. Yet we are not coming forth to speak with you in order to illicit guilt or to blame anyone or any circumstance of the condition of nature and the skin of the earth. We come forth for a different reason.

During the change that is occurring upon the earth, we have felt the vibrations of those who choose to plunder earth's treasures. And while this is not something that we can change, we come forth to tell you, to inform you that such plundering effects the nature of the crust of the earth. Her surface becomes more vulnerable to the eruptions that caused us, long ago, to enter into the land within. Again, we are not speaking with you to illicit fear or guilt. More so, we simply come forth to tell you that as the earth changes, she will become more fragile. Yet hear our words!

This is truly what we have come forth to say to you. It is your consciousness that is saving earth, that is maintaining her integrity of being, the integrity of her grid and the integrity of her electromagnetic force. You are beginning to hold within you, those vibrations that are similar to the pristine nature of earth and her beauty.

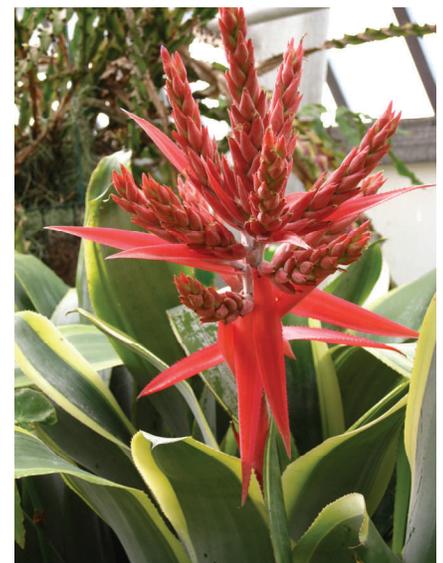

When you hold yourself in peace, when you set aside your thinking about right and wrong, when you cease from pointing your fingers toward those who are plundering and instead place your heart within love of that which nourishes and replenishes; it is then that you are taking a brave step, a different step. Different from what?

There are those who want to stop the battles and stop the plundering. And though that is neither right nor wrong in our view, the truth remains that upon entering that battle, there is a continued battle. There might be a good reason, an honorable reason beneath the battle, yet still there is a battle.

Yet, again we say, there are those of you who choose to maintain your consciousness of love, of truth, of union, and of the knowing that all beings are but one being. And it is to you that we now speak.

You must continue. You must continue to hold truth to yourselves and to refuse to be magnetized to those who battle, even for a good cause. As you hold to that consciousness that is of truth, you are uniting with earth's integrity and you are returning to her, the nourishment that she has continued to bestow upon all of those beings who reside upon her surface.

We who live within the earth are also participating in ways that will assist earth to maintain herself whilst the changes occur. This time the changes are great. There is a battle occurring, as if the olde battle of good and evil, of truth and untruth, of wholeness and illusion and distortion. And though we may be incorrect in this statement, we believe at the moment that it is true. The untruth and distortion continue to be in the majority.

You might be wondering how this can be when there are so many who are refusing to participate, who are deciding to turn from such illusions. It is fear that holds beings to the battle. Fear of loss, fear of never having peace, fear of survival's grasp.

Oh beings who reside upon the surface of the hearth, you cannot make the majority let go of fear. What can you do? We suggest this. You can love everyone. And while there are those who have caused you to pull away from them, you can still... as if from afar... love them knowing that they are suffering inside of their spirit and that they are filled with fear, even when they appear to be warriors. The more that you can love the all -- that is, all beings -- the more that those who are filled with fear can dare to believe that there is hope. for some, that is the most that they can open to... hope. And while you are filled with hope-fulfilled, the truth remains that you are of the whole and the whole contains those who are suffering and are hopeless.

There are those of us who have, in the past, journeyed to the surface and ventured forth to reside upon the surface for a time. Yet now we are not able to journey to the surface. The reason is that the surface is too fragile for us to reside upon. Yet we breathe forth the frequencies of the purity of inner earth that it might merge with the surface and strength earth's being.

We love our planet of earth, just as many of you do. And though this speaking is filled with the unexpected news, we also say to you: you are doing what none others can do. Maintaining an expanded consciousness is not an easy task while living in the turmoil of the battles upon earth. yet you are continuing.

We have felt your success, your beauty, your determination to continue to be who you are more and more. Do you consider yourselves brave? You are. Your efforts are succeeding. We ask you: do not give up, but continue. You are needed now more than ever before.

Everything has the potential to emerge from the battles and to reside in peace and love. We are joining with you and we simply would like you to know that you are not alone in what you are doing. The entirety of earth is not only grateful for what you are doing with your consciousness; what you are doing is necessary. Most necessary.

We are grateful for this opportunity to speak with you.

