The Ancient Ones!

We are a gathering of Ancient Ones, twelve in number, and come forth upon your call, your call to not only know more of the seeming great unknown but to also participate directly with the full, rich heritage of who you are and who you are becoming.

Long ago we did reside in physicality and upon earth. The earth upon which we resided was the second earth. You are now residing upon the third earth. This third earth is unique in that it holds within the fulcrum of its forming, those vibrational frequencies that can and will support your continued awakening. Of course, this is not by accident.

Many of you waited until this time upon your earth, waited for those frequencies that would support your expanding consciousness and with it, your abilities to call forth a new dimension incarnate, a new dimension that would restore that which you knew as the original pristine nature of earth one.

Many of you who receive these words were also part of a gathering of beings who resided upon earth one and who breathed in and out the formings of what you have come to call paradise. Your vision of paradise is not created out of your imagination; more so, it is being called forth from your own memories, your own histories, when that called God-Incarnate walked the earth. You were then, God-Incarnate. Be not involved in debating about the nature of God or Goddess. In truth, All is One. Yet you know this to be true simply because it is the primary Truth that you have chosen to breathe forth into the forming of the new dimension.

You are changing. You have recognized your changing from some time now; yet you can feel a new calling, a new vibration, and a new emerging. The emerging is dependent upon the simultaneous forming of the new dimension. You might say that your emerging and continued expanding consciousness are the calling forth of the new dimension.

Fear not for wondering how you will function, how you will live; and more so, how you will remain incarnate whilst physically incorporating the most expanded frequencies ever to be incarnate in human physical form.

When you resided upon earth one, you prepared these vibrational frequencies for this exact purpose. You placed within the fabric of your spirit, those avenues through which your consciousness would traverse, those cellular encodings that would enable you to open your heart to the depths of real love, Divine Love, and those treasured memories of your first steppings incarnate within the essence that would eventually form as earth one in all of its splendor.

You were time travelers in a manner of speaking. You traveled the time stream and saw, perceived the ending of earth one. Refusing to explore the emotions of such a discovery, you entered into a different kind of exploration. You delved into the cause and effect of the releasing of earth one and the forming of earth two. Finally, you felt rather than saw a shift in the dimensions. What had occurred? You ventured forth, into the great unknown of the time stream and then felt the birthing into physicality of a new dimension. You felt the time and circumstances within which you are now residing.

Some have called this new dimension the fourth dimension. Yet we caution you in naming that which is about to be created. What you are participating with creating is much more than what could be called the fourth dimension.

All of creation, all dimensions, all Universes come forth to join you in this creation, which is dependent upon your daring to continue to expand, your daring to continue to let go of your previous beliefs and interpretations of experiences, and your daring to also let go of who you have perceived yourself to be... so that you can be who you really are... the Universe, the All Incarnate.

Words cannot describe the essence that you are participating within as you dance your dance and step into your new journey.

You might be wondering what you will experience. And though we would enjoy telling you exactly what to expect, we cannot... simply because your journey is into the great unknown of Truth being made known.

Yet we can definitely assure you that you have nothing to fear and everything to celebrate. You are leaving a way of being, a dimension that has held its integrity in order to support sleeping humanity as it stretches and awakens from the illusion of separation from the whole, a dimension that has held the frequencies of suffering in order to include all beings, all spirits within the essence of awakening, even if such awakening is but a sigh... that none be searching for that which is inherent in their own journey toward totality of being, or that which you call Home.

Then we can say that the third dimension will have fulfilled its purpose. Within the history of earth two, the third dimension was not able to be released from its seated grasp upon physicality. We would say that the demise of earth two, as you did perceive within your long-ago exploration of the time stream, rested upon the attempts to eradicate certain factors of humans from the earth. The attempts came from those who also resided upon earth two and from those who were waiting to claim domain of the entire earth two. None succeeded. The demise of earth two was allowed. That is, there were those Light Beings who recognized the declining cause and effect and who were unable to further prevent what could be called the inevitable perishing of all beings and of earth two itself.

These times now are different. The preservation of earth three, your earth, is the goal of many many many beings, Light Beings who have dedicated their purposes toward preventing further destruction, which would this time be catastrophic for their homes as well. This, too, is not an accident but part of the developing creation of the incarnating of the new dimension. It requires the participation of many.

Your numbers have grown. That is, the numbers of those who are incarnate and have awakened to the truth that All is One, who have awakened and continue to awaken to the known that resides within the essence of their spirit self, and who have dared to love... to love all beings, who have dared to reach out to those who have been crying, lost, and searching for an answer, some answer... they not knowing how grande the answer is. In your reaching out to those ones, you have most gloriously seated one of the primary ingredients for the calling forth of this new dimension. Love and Compassion, resting within the ever-expanding Truth of One as it becomes known within physicality's inhabitants.

We have come forth during this speaking to firstly alert you to a most grande occurrence and to also assure you that you are doing very well, that you are remaining true to your own inner self, that spirit of long ago. You all comprise one being, a being who spans the reaches of all of your earth three. We are with you now, have been with you since the very beginning of your first breath; and we will remain with you, to guide you, to assist you, and to participate directly with you in not only the forming of the new dimension, but your full entry and synchronization within it.

You have waited long for this time. It is here. It is now. And you are as magnificent as you have always been. We are honored to come forth and speak with you in this manner.

Until we speak again, we are the Ancient Ones.
