

Teacher - The New Realm Manifesting on Earth - Speaking One

Greetings, my dears! I've decide to speak with you about the new realm that is manifesting upon earth. Now some of you have heard about it and have perhaps read different renditions or explanations on what this new realm is all about. And some of you have never heard about it. That's all right if you haven't. We are all on the same page with equal footing here as we begin.

Now, what is the new realm and why is it manifesting here on earth? Let's begin with the basics, shall we? As you have perhaps heard me say many times, everything is a frequency and it is the same with the new realm. What is the frequency about and what is its purpose? Now that's a deeper question, isn't it. Yes. Here we go.

The new realm is part of a consciousness that flows forth from the All, from Eternity, to be made manifest for the sole purpose of providing a residing place for those who are awake or awakening, for those who have discovered that the spiritual path is the only path, and further, who have discovered that regardless of how a being might appear to be or the path that a being is residing upon, all paths are spiritual and in fact, all being are One Being. Now don't fret if you can't seem to make yourself fit in to any of those words. We are not here to try to fit into anything. We are actually here to be who we really are and to disregard who we have been trying hard to be.

Now this realm isn't something that is exclusive, isn't like a religion that says only you are the right ones for this realm. More so, the frequency of the new realm is a calling, a calling to all beings to lift from survival's grasp and to dare... to dare to breathe into themselves truth. Now truth isn't a statement, isn't a written code; more so, truth is also a frequency. And incarnate, truth is the closest we can come to purity of being. Now, purity of being has nothing to do with perfection.

Perhaps we might need to become more clear about that so that we can all -- all who are receiving these words -- be able to relax into the rest of this information about the new realm. Perfect is a type of interpretation, an interpretation of what might be holiness itself. It's not a crime that there are those teachings that try to cause its followers to be perfect according to those teachings or doctrines. Yet perfection is best left for those who can find such a perfection inside themselves. You see, we are not here to walk on eggshells, so to speak. We are not here to edit our own thoughts or actions for the reason of becoming who we already are. We are here to discover, to go forth as adventurers and to discover what this physicality is all about and also to discover within that journey who we really are... and are not.

And here is the good news: this new realm, this frequency, is present to help us do just that. It is here to assist all beings to let go of trying so hard to follow the rules, the spiritual rules, so that each being can journey within him- or her-self and become more and more aware of the truth of who they are. Now I know I've been going on and on about this "discovering who you really are", but isn't that what this journey is all about? It is.

Now why is this new realm here? What caused it to be here? Why now? Here's the answer to those questions. You have been here -- those of you who receive these words -- and have released your grasp upon survival, upon trying to be the best, have the most and manifest manifest manifest. You discovered through your own experiences that all of those ways weren't fulfilling. Oh they may have been in the beginning, but after a while the thrill of having seemed to fade away, especially when the "big stuff" seemed to be just out of reach. And there was a reason for that, of course. If you kept getting, you wouldn't have a reason to stop trying to get, would you? And at the time, I'm sure you weren't interested in accepting the fact that not-getting was a gift.

So then, when you discovered that there had to be a different way, it seemed that a new adventure unfolded before you. You hesitantly stepped upon it and found that what folks were calling "the spiritual journey" was actually a feeling of freedom, freedom to be. You found others who were on this spiritual journey and more opened for you. And you have been journeying ever since. And now here's the great good news. Because you have been journeying upon this spiritual path of discovery, you have held a frequency, one of truth, and it is that frequency that has called forth this new realm.

So there you have it. You are the reason, you and all of those who have dared to step into a new way of living, of residing in peace and truth, called forth this new realm. You might not have literally called it forth with your meditations, your beseechings, your prayers; but the frequencies that you have chosen to reside within and as, did call forth this new realm. It is here for you. Actually, as I began, this new realm is here for everyone.

Now what is it about, this new realm? What does it offer us? The frequencies within the new realm are multi-layered; that is, it offers all beings a way of journeying into a new dimension of being, one that provides fulfillment yet continues to nourish the spirit. What does that mean? Well, my dears, let's pretend a little. Pretend that you have entered a new land, one that is most beautiful where nature is beautiful and all creatures are friendly and the entire place is safe, but not only safe; more so, it is enhancing your journey to such a degree that you find that you are automatically stepping with a new-found joy and delight. That's the beginning of entering this new realm. The beginning.

Now your human nature might have a few questions about all of that. Your human nature is the survivor, remember? That human nature might want to know if anything will change, if he or she will lose anything that has been gained by hard work and diligence. And the answer to the human is this: Everything is made manifest for you. That is, this new realm is designed specially for you so that you can relax and rest while journeying into the real gift of being incarnate.

You see, human, you have been struggling for long enough. Even when you have been on your spiritual path, you have continued to struggle in some way or another. That's all right. It isn't a crime. Struggling has simply been part of the journey in physicality and upon earth during times of great upheaval and despair. You couldn't help but be affected by it all. Yet you continued onward, doing your very best. And to that I, Teacher, say Bravo!

And now this new realm is here just for you, to give you the freedom from struggle. Oh I know you won't want to dare to trust that simply because you believed it long ago and something fell through with that promise didn't it. Yes. Oh it wasn't your fault; you weren't to blame that the struggle continued to stay with you while the words that you read said that the struggle was over. You were simply residing on your path, on your own journey, and as I have said, doing your best. And now, yes now, you have the opportunity to let go of the final phase of that struggle, the final phase of survival's grasp. I say: it can't have you any longer. This new realm is actually a severing of the ties to survival, severing the ties to a way of being that hasn't worked to produce fulfillment, yet continued to magnetize you to it simply because there didn't seem to be another way. Hear my words: that is all over now. It is complete as it is.

Now I've gone on and on about what the new realm is about. I haven't described the ins and outs of what's inside of the new realm. And more importantly, I haven't described how you can actually enter that realm. There is a portal and it's not exclusive, of course. What is needed? Just a bit of aligning your frequencies to it. And I am going to help you do that. That's why I am here, my dears, to assist you in any and every way that I can, to assure you that you get to have it all. By that I mean that I am here to assist you to reside in fulfillment, real fulfillment, from the inside out. But that's another little talk, isn't it. I want to be sure that you really get this. I want to be sure that you know that you don't have to make yourself be smarter than you already are, more holy than you already are, or more sincere than every cell of your being already is. I want you to know deep inside that you are absolutely perfect as you are, even with what seems to be imperfections.

So then, I'll be speaking with you in several of these little talks, and the purpose will be to help you prepare for this new realm, help you to align your frequencies, and to assist you to enter the portal and discover the freedom that your own frequencies have called forth. Oh you are going to love this! But you don't have to take my word for it. It's all experiential, after all, and your experiences will give to you that certainty that will unbind you from that final phase of survival; and when that unbinding does occur, you will feel it, you will recognize it simply because the joy, the inside joy will bubble up and out. You might find yourself saying, "Finally!" Or, you might weep. You might... well, I suppose you'll find out for yourself, won't you.

Know that I am most fond of you and I am dedicated to your freedom, freedom to be and to reside in the truth of who you really are. I am Teacher.
