

July's Reflection with the Divine Mother

Greetings! I am your Divine Mother and I am most pleased to be speaking with you in this manner. For, there comes a time, perhaps only a moment, when you might feel as though you are alone, that the difficulties you are and have been experiencing are left to your figuring and solution, and that perhaps even the earth and all of humanity seem to be if not abandoned, then left to flounder during these times of great upheaval. And that is why I have come forth to speak with you.

I wish you to know that not for one moment have you been abandoned. Yes, for some, struggles have seemed to increase and become more demanding. And yes, it appears that the horrors of humans against humans has succeeded in removing a vast majority from the earth. Yet again I say to you, you are not abandoned. Hear my words, oh children of my being.

There comes forth upon the earth now a great change, a change not only in how you have believed, a change not only in what is occurring in your cause and effect, but more so, a change in the overlying consciousness that covers not only the sleeping masses but also covers all beings. This cloud may seem to be dangerous, may seem to be powerful, but neither is true. The cloud, the density that takes hold of at times even the most awake being is a pattern and accompanying frequency that was developed long long ago. And now, with the great change blossoming clearly and daringly, the old patterns rise to the surface as well. Rise to the surface to be either participated with or to be released to the nothing.

And it is your dedication to truth, your dedication to love, your dedication to embracing the spirit of all beings that breathes your holy breath upon those old patterns to release their formings so that they can return to nothing. And I, your Divine Mother, come forth to assist in that dedication, to flow forth my love upon you and within you.

I wish you to pause for a moment, this moment, and then if you choose, to pause each and every day for one moment. And within that moment remind yourself that you are not alone, that you are surrounded by your Divine Mother's love. Within that moment, call forth those spirit beings who are waiting for you to ask, waiting for you to invite them to participate with you as you dare to go forth, standing strong in the Truth of One.

In this one moment, right now, set aside all other occurrences and thoughts and place your attention upon me, your Divine Mother, for I wish to give to you a gift. The gift is a frequency of strength. This strength is not necessarily physical strength, but it can be. This strength that I flow forth to you is one that assists you to remember who you are, assists you to recognize that when you are frustrated about something in your cause and effect then there is a distortion occurring. You can uplift yourself from this distortion by breathing deeply and choosing to receive my gift of strength, the strength of truth. Truth automatically aligns everything, yes, including physicality but more so, Truth automatically aligns the frequencies that form that of you, your spirit as you reside incarnate. When your frequencies are aligned, then you have the great capability of flowing forth that alignment and truth toward and into anything that is distorted. It is your own strength augmented. You are most capable of declaring peace and totality within any cause and effect. Yet remember that in so doing, you are not taking sides, you are not efforting to change beliefs. You are not efforting to change another being, for all beings reside in choice.

What you are doing, then, is shifting the frequencies to a more compatible vibration, one that holds within it that peace and of course, my love. Long long ago you participated upon earth in these manners and because you did, pathways were created for those ones to step upon, to place themselves in what could be called relief, salvation, and perhaps the receiving of themselves into their own consciousness.

This then brought to the beings who placed themselves upon the revealed pathway, a clearing of the false beliefs, the distorted judgments. And this clearing delivered to those ones the flowing forth of truth. The flowing forth of truth was not, of course, a set of beliefs to follow. No, the flowing forth of truth was and continues to be a frequency that embraces the spirit, the soul, in such a way that totality is recognized. And that, my dear children, is the Return to One. This is the pathway that you created long long ago. And it is a pathway that you can create now, for it is waiting to be made manifest.

Your participation is the same as it was long long ago. You are fully capable. And your receiving my love and strength only gives to you a more expanded consciousness, a frequency that parts the seas of the illusion so that you can know within your being that you are the relief itself, you are the salvation itself, you are the peace, you are the love, and you are the flowing forth of your very holiness of being. All rests simply upon your choice, your decision.

I am with you always, always. The spirit beings are about you always. You have more assistance than your human nature could imagine. Receive. Receive what is freely given... and then give, flow your holiness forth once again and form that pathway.

Always am I with you. Remember to ask. Remember to receive. Remember to give. Remember to love... yourself, knowing that simultaneously you are loving all beings.

This is your time upon earth. Before you incarnated here, you had already set yourself into the frequencies upon earth. You were so very hungry to assist suffering humanity that you found that you must breathe forth love, even as you were incarnating. For this and simply because you are my children, do I love you beyond the speaking of love.

Then until I have the great opportunity to speak with you again, I am your Divine Mother and speak the words so be it.

So be it.
